Liturgical Reflection:

I've found it humbling to ask what "outcasts" do I sanctimoniously spurn as impure, unclean, dirty, contaminated, and, in my mind, far from God. The mentally ill, people who have married three or four times, wealthy executives, welfare recipients, people who hold conservative political opinions, or maybe people with AIDS? How have I distorted the self-sacrificing, egalitarian love of God into self-serving, exclusionary elitism? What boundaries do I wrongly build or might I bravely shatter?

A message from the Pastor:

“Four More Years”

About a year and a half ago when I turned 70 years old the Bishop granted me permission “to continue as Administrator of St. Colman” with a promise to “discuss your future in light of the accepted clustering plan and implementation process.” When I met with him last week for this discussion he said that it was his wish that I remain at St. Colman throughout the four years of implementation. It looks like, God willing, we’ll be together for a while longer to make God’s love and mercy known to Cleveland. Thanks to all for your continued support of our common goal to deepen the participation and ownership of all the parishioners in the celebration of and the implementation of that mission.

— Father Robert Begin

A letter from Fr. Randy Gonzales, our guest from Missionhurst last weekend:

Dear Fr. Begin,
It is my pleasure to thank you on behalf of the Missionhurst Priests for the mission appeal in your parish the weekend of August 22-23, 2009. As partners in the Missionary Cooperative Plan for 2009, we are particularly grateful to have been given the opportunity to work with you in promoting our common vocation of raising the awareness of the mission work in your Catholic community.

Please extend our gratitude to your parishioners as well. Their sacrifice constitutes a real help for our men in the field. Much can be accomplished in the missions because of their enthusiasm and support. Our gratitude will find its fullest expression in our daily prayers for their special intentions.

I am personally thankful to you for the kind hospitality shown to me. I enjoyed my visit to your parish.

Wishing you and your parishioners an abundance of the Lord’s blessings, I am

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Rev. Randy Gonzales, csm
Assistant Director of Development

Thank You So Much!

Last Monday and Tuesday, we were thrilled to distribute over 1200 bags of school supplies to children in west side Cleveland schools! Thank you so much to the 50 or so volunteers from St. Colman, St. Christopher, St. Clarence, St. Brendan and La Sagrada Familia for your hard work with the families on Monday. Many thanks, too, to the volunteers who came on Tuesday morning, including residents at Edna House, who delivered vans filled with supplies to Watterson-Lake, Waverly, Gallagher, Booker, Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, Metro Catholic and Urban Community Schools. The supplies were collected by 12 parishes and delivered to us just in time for our distribution last week.
